While in a fit of delirium, August Sinnll, a patient suffering from a created a panic at Holy Cross hospital yesterday morning by arming himself with an open knife and rushing wildly about the corridors, arming himself with an open knife and rushing wildly about the corridors, threatening to murder anyone who sought to restrain him in his effort to break out of the hospital. Despite the fact that every door was securely fastened to prevent his escape, in his fienzy he burst open an inner door, jumped through a glass window and disappeared before a police officer could get to the scene. The hospital, it is said, was the scene of wild terror for a while, screaming women and frightened men deeing from the frenzled patient, and the latter making efforts to tear his way out of the building.

According to the statement of the sister sweeter, Sinnii, who is a Finnish der from the Queen mine at Pingham, was brought to the hospital in a delirious condition Friday night, suffering from envisipelas. He remained delirious all night, and yesterday morning he suddenly became possessed of a desire to leave the hospital, and attempted to force his way out. To prevent him leaving the entrance doors were locked, but when Sinnii discovered this it seemed to throw him into a rage, and, drawing a pocketknife, he rushed at several of the sisters who happened to be in the corridor, and they were forced to flee to rooms for safety.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Another Park City mining operator showed his faith in the future of Salt Lake yesterday, when John McSooley, foreman of the Daly-West, paid $20,110 for 25½x72½ feet of ground, with the one-story building, 125 feet east of Main street, on the north side of Second South. The gentleman has already leased it for one year for $1,800.

The bank clearings yesterday were $508,344.52, compared with $313,816.89 For the week the clearings were $4.923,897.88, compared with $2,455.021.41 for the corresponding week last year

It is J. G. Anderson, ir., who is to build the fine $20,000 residence on the corner of Brigham and Ninth East street, instead of the Anderson brothers, as was stated last Tuesday morning. Mr. Anderson's house is to be a single twelve-room house of white pressed brick, and will no doubt be an ornament to that part of the city. It will face east and north.

Expecting to receive orders any day Expecting to receive orders any day to join his regiment, Deputy County Clerk Frank T. Hines, who was recently appointed to a lieutenancy in the artillery service of the regular army, yesterday sold his home at 483 Sixth street to George W. Cumine, a recent arrival from Arlzona. The house is a new, modern, seven-room brick, and the lot contains 49½ by 165 feet of ground, facing east and south at the corner of G street. The purchase price paid was $4,500.

By the terms of a warranty deed filed for record yesterday with the county recorder, A. F. Lawson has purchased from Theodore Schroeder of Spink county, South Dakota, and A. T. Schroeder of this city, lots 1 and 2, in block 20, plat G, facing south on Second street from R to S. The stated consideration named in the deed is $3, and $500, but in the deal a suit of Schroeder against Lawson was dismissed in the district court yesterday.

The county commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution fixing the salary week ago. Last week thirteen new cases of scarlet fever developed, making thirty-two now under quarantine, four less than at the end of the preceding week. Ten cases of typhold fever were reported, making twenty cases of this disease now under surveillance, an increase of two. Two new cases of smallpox were sent to the isolation hospital, increasing the number there to four. With the two new cases of diphtheria reported there are now eight cases of this disease known to be in existence in this city.

The births reported for the week numbered forty-three and the deaths from outside the city for interment.

SPEAKERS URGE CLOSER AT-TENTION TO YOUNG MEMBERS.

The attendance at yesterday morning's session of conference was too large for the lower part of the house and the gallery was opened.

Apostle Lund was the first speaker. Apostle Lund was the first speaker. His remarks were largely along the same line as those of previous speakers at the conference. He urged that Latter-day Saints should bow in obedience to the will of God in whatever form it comes. The Lord has not allowed his people to wander in darkness, he said, but has always led them in a lightened path by revealing his will to his servants. The apostle spoke of the books that have been written under inspiration, including the church works, and said there are more to come.

works, and said there are more to come.

Apostle Lund spoke of the necessity of the people spending their spare time in mutual improvement work, and asked them to need counsel on all matters and not to have too much dancing and other recreation in their lives, although a reasonable amount of the pleasure might properly be sanctioned. Losed with a plea to the bishops of the preserved, in order that the history which the Mormon people are making might be preserved.

Apostle M. W. Merrill was the next speaker. He begun immediately on the profanity question, and asked what man, holding the holy priesthood, would dare to take the name of Deity vain. He asked the ward authoritles to put on their thinking caps and see if some means could not be devised to lessen the evils which confront the people, in which he included smoking, chewing and drinking.

"If we had the proper people at the head of our municipalities, I believe many good things could be brought about," remarked the speaker. He said later that it was the duty of every church member to try to crush out the evils.

The advent of more propitious weather brought largely increased crowds of visitors from every direction, and as a consequence, even with the gallery thrown open, the accommodations in the afternoon were scarcely adequate. The attendance was an overflow one at 2:15 o'clock, when President Joseph F. Smith called the conference to order.

Apathy of the Young.

Apathy of the Young.

Golden Kimball, the first speaker, said: "The Mormon church has a great labor to perform among all the nations of the earth, but the greater efforts should be directed toward the younger element of our faith. There appears to be a sort of apathy prevalent among the young folks, not exactly general, but suffidight evidence exists regarding the lack of genuine interest in church affairs, to call attention to the deplorable condition. Some of the missionaries we send to foreign lands are beardless youths. We do not fear or tremble for them. We especially desire that they see and learn everything which is good, so long as they will shun vice and avoid women, as you would the gates of hell. These young men who have been called to do God's work are in need of enccuragement; so are all of our young people."

Growth of the Church. Growth of the Church.

B. H. Roberts spoke at length on the growth of the Mormon church, and refuted the notion that the present progress was not as proportionately great as in the early days. "The numerical strength of our church," said President Roberts, "should not blind our eyes. Our progress might have been still greater but for the reason of some ideas getting into our literature a few years previous to the death of the Prophet Joseph Smith. The impression was created that in the early days ston was created that in the early days

Wednesday last Charles Harrington had his hand badly crushed between two loaded cars of ore at the Ontario mine. At the Anchor mine this week E. E. Malin got caught in a smail cave. Aside from minor bruises his right foot was crushed, necessitating the amputation of two of his toes.

Frank James, who shot and killed Jack Fitzgerald last month, was released from prison Wednesday on $5,000 bonds. W. W. Armstrong and Barney Riley are his sureties, they having cash security.

A small fire was discovered Thursday in the Lawry boarding house on Main street, which caused considerable excitement. It was quickly extinguished and little damage was done.

Park City came to the front at the state fair this week. Mrs. James R. Payne won a gold medal, a diploma and $2 for the finest exhibit of point lace work.

Wednesday Samuel Hawkes, a miner employed at the Little Bell mine, was taken to St. Mark's hospital suffering with a severe attack of pneumonia.

Buildings are being erected in all parts of the city, but the demand for houses seems to be as great as ever. Fark City's population is steadily and rapidly increasing.

The afternoon Rio Grande train now aves the Park at 3:30 instead of 4:30, as error of the control of the contro leaves the Park at 3:30 instead of 4:30, as heretofore. The new schedule went into effect today.

Thursday Tom Matthews got caught in the belting at the Daly-West mill and would undoubtly have been mangled to a jelly had it not been for the prompt action of a fellow workman who, realizing the danger, speedly cut the belt and released the victim. Matthews was badly squeezed and remained unconscious for over an hour, and for a time it looked as thought his injuries were fatal.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS TO SEVIER PERSONS.

Richfield, Oct. 4.-Several persons in this county are nursing wounds as the result of accidents during the past week. Wednesday morning a horse on which Emerson, the 12-year-old son of Mrs. M. M. Johnson of this place, was riding became unmanageable and dashed into a barbed-wire fence. The horse was badly cut up and the boy's throat lacerated, his windpipe narrowly escaping being cut open.

Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Elsinore has been compelled to submit to an operation for the removal of her toe.

Christopher I. Kempe, one of the first settlers of Sevier valley, has met with undoubtedly a fatal accident at Concho, Apache county, Arizona, a few days ago. He fell from his wagon and both shoulders were bent-back, the ribs torn loose from the backbone and sternum bone, and he was otherwise badly injured. He is 70 years of age and became much noted in 1834 by being one of three persons sent from Arizona to the house of correction at Detroit, Mich., on account of his being a polygamist.

MT. PLEASANT VETERANS PLAN TO ORGANIZE.

Mt. Pleasant, Oct. 4.—The old veterans who fought in the battles with Indians throughout this section fifty years ago, without pay of recognition of any kind, are working for an organization in this city. There are more of these old-timers in Mt. Pleasant than in any other city in the state, but there never has been an organization here. It is the intention to hold a campfire or annual reunion here next year if the organization is effected. The objects of the organization besides the social features, are to try for pensions or back salaries for the veterans. The matter is now in the hands of a committee consisting of Joseph Wise, Joseph Day and James Jorgenson.

The Civics club, a literary society of this city, which was in fine running order two years ago, was reorganized with the following officers: President, Professor Orange Aldrich sold his entire herd or sheep this week, John Monson buying them.

The teachers of the public schools in this city will visit the Salt Lake City schools in a body in a short time, re-maining there a week.

Logan, Oct. 5.—Abe Majors when seen this morning had but little to say about the verdict rendered last evening, except that he was surprised at it, expecting an acquittal. "I am gratified to know, however," he said, "that eight men out of the twelve believed me innocent. I am frank to say that I had an impartial trial, and I feel grateful to Judge Hart for the entirely fair manner in which he conducted the case. My attorneys made a brave fight for me and I appreciate their work I assure you." For the first time since his coming to Logan, Majors slept soundly last night. Within fifteen minutes after the rendering of the verdict he was sound asleep, and remained practically dead to the world until late this morning, when he arose in much better spirits. His attorneys are loud in their praise of Judge Hart. Attorney Weber will be here on Tuesday, the time set for sentence, and will plead for judicial mercy. District Attorney Nebeker will likely argue for the extreme sentence. Logan, Oct. 5.-Abe Majors when seen

Dear Sir: You no doubt know that when I ordered your Belt I had my back nearly broken by accident. My doctors advised the use of the appliance and I have used it from that time on for a knee wound, blood poison, bad sores and rheumatism, all combined. I have passed through such a siege of sickness with its assistance that not one out of 500 would have done and lived. Mrs. Kimball had a paralytic stroke, and she received so much benefit from the use of my Belt that I have ordered one for her. Your may make use of this letter in any manner you choose to.
